It sounds like mah jong

The game of mah jong requires the players to make up hands that have names such as 'a run, a pung and a pair'.

As a mathematical equivalent, can you make up the first ten natural (counting) numbers from a cube, a square and a root?

$$x^3 \quad x^2 \quad \sqrt{x}$$