

Making muffins

A roadside 'coffee cart' offers drinks and muffins for sale.

To make a healthy profit, they need to make just enough muffins to nearly sell out by the end of the day.

Use the sales figures for the past three months to suggest how many muffins they should make for a typical day.

