

Carbon offset

The average person in New Zealand travels by air for a total of 20 hours per year. This equates to 1000 kg of carbon added to the atmosphere by each person, each year.

A green initiative suggests that if everyone planted two trees a year, this will offset the carbon from air travel.

Assuming the average lifespan of a tree is 50 years, how much carbon does each tree offset, each year?

